“Lord Lichfield’s Maid”

By Joanne Massey

Admission : £3.00

Joanne is actually a singer and entertainer, however, before that, she lived at Milford and got a job as a maid for Patrick Lichfield.

Her fascinating talk tells of how that came about, what the job entailed (very much like Downton Abbey), about the famous people she met, and what Lord Lichfield was like to work for; a wonderful person and a true gent. Joanne worked there for 7 years up until he died, and was treated like part of the family.

She tells stories of being invited to a family wedding, funny stories from working there, and of a photo shoot with Lord Lichfield. She does bring along some pictures that Lord Lichfield took of her, as well as a scrapbook with lots of memories, for people to look at after her talk.
